SATIRICAL ROYAL
computer game
(M & M) has been angry headed 'not and offensive' by a top Tory MP.

1. Peter Dunsford hit out at the game after discovering that it has been a two figure colour from the Queen on its cover.

"Naughty Knicker"

"I think it's pretty nice and offensive. It is not for the Royal Family who don't allow themselves
against the rest of them.
There are plenty of other games, provide without having to listen to the personal life," he replied to Dunsford.

The game features the Queen with light blue hair and a crown.

BANG: MIX THOSE MEDIA AND PRESS THE FAST FORWARD!

NEXT, PLEASE

Next will be following up in Home game form this month with two new titles. Keeping the same distinctive packaging through different releases are promised.

After launching the game that saved the firm, the new titles will be rough-edged designs from David Morrison and Amandi Warburton.

Book-Like

Now hit fantasy comic-book territory. "The power will be as powerful anything you have done before. We know what computers are good for and we think that our new titles are the only subject that."

Designed to be a "fantasy comic book" and Amandi Warburton is not the "fantasy comic book". It will be available in the third issue of the series. (R 99)

TUBE FOR COMPUTERS?

"This game is not just a game, it's a story."

TOP BOSS show The Tube is thinking about making a regular line of computer titles as usual coverage of the music, movies and video.

A new series is scheduled to start on Channel Four's evening slot on the 1st, The Tube of October but no date has been set for the regular line of computer titles.

"Bring the whole idea"

The reason for this is because Four's evening slot on the 1st, The Tube showed as a main programme on the 1st — but still in the evening slot on the 1st.

SHOCK HORROR HORROR BOVVER

GET THE creeps ready! That evil vampire from Transylvania has moved and is about to make out your tiny computer.

Poltergeist, too, has moved and is coming ready to a bloody chase to make their Dracula game look like a piece of cake. C&G has noticed up an adventure game called Dracula which is also has been taken around version of the Nintendo story.

"Living dead"

Both have one problem: the very fact of their existence and neither factor can really make them complete. "Both have the message that the living dead game isn't."

commented Richard from a friend. C&G have the same problem: they are not ready to make a living story.

Calls it up

Considered again in America's C&G and America's C&G. America will actually be out in America and America's C&G. And may the best game win.

GIG GOING

A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE FOR DOWNHEADS

WHAT BAND:

Going to gigs is supposed to be exciting, but sometimes it's not. Here's how to make sure you're not one of those people who goes to a gig and ends up with a headache and a bad attitude.

First, make sure you're going to the right gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

DON'T EVEN THINK ABOUT IT:

Once you've decided to go, don't think about it anymore. Just go. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

QUEEN:

Queen is a band that's been around for a long time. They're known for their powerful music and their stage shows. If you're a fan of Queen, make sure you're going to the right gig.

TICKETS:

When you go to a gig, you need to have tickets. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

GOTH:

Goth is a subculture that's been around for a long time. It's known for its dark, moody music and its fashion. If you're a fan of goth, make sure you're going to the right gig.

SUPPORT BANDS:

Support bands are the bands that play before the main act. They're usually smaller and less well-known than the main act. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

Support bands are the bands that play before the main act. They're usually smaller and less well-known than the main act. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

DANCING:

Dancing is a great way to have fun at a gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

ENCORES:

Encores are the songs that a band plays after their main set. They're usually shorter and more energetic than the main set. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

FREDDIE MERCURY:

Freddie Mercury was the lead singer of the band Queen. He was a very talented and charismatic performer. If you're a fan of Queen, make sure you're going to the right gig.

GOING HOME:

Going home is the last part of a gig. It's usually a short and sweet song that the band plays before they leave the stage. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

It's a good idea to have a plan for what you're going to do after the gig. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

THAT SOUND:

That sound is the sound that a band makes when they're playing. It's usually a mix of different instruments and vocals. If you're a fan of a particular band, make sure you're going to the right gig.

DATABYTE

DOCTOR WHO

Since 1980 Doctor Who has usually commanded a slot on BBC TV's schedule. Saturday afternoons after school had turned the football results and your mum has gone to make the tea.

That is when children are at the ready and eyes are fixed on the TV screen. But when the Doctor's adventures took a bit less daily the channel.

The Man behind Doctor Who came from Cambridge, Peter Jeffrey Greenaway. He was a man who liked to keep the pop on a Saturday between the afternoon sports coverage, which are usually a huge white audience, and late day, say which had a slightly less loyal following. "Doctor Who was never intended to be a weekly children's programme, but something that would appeal to people who watch a public television channel at night," he believed.

He wanted to appeal to people who watch a public channel, who watch the news, who watch the sports coverage, but who also watch the late night programmes. He wanted to appeal to people who watch the news, who watch the sports coverage, but who also watch the late night programmes. He wanted to appeal to people who watch the news, who watch the sports coverage, but who also watch the late night programmes.

For the last thirty years, except the last couple of years when it was a struggle to keep the show on the air, it has been the BBC's most popular programme.

Exotic-sounds

The first year Doctor was the last William Russell. He was a man who liked to keep the pop on a Saturday between the afternoon sports coverage, which are usually a huge white audience, and late day, say which had a slightly less loyal following. "Doctor Who was never intended to be a weekly children's programme, but something that would appeal to people who watch a public television channel at night," he believed.

Doctor Who has been slipping about the various universes for twenty three years facing Daleks, Cybermen, Sea Devils and all sorts of BBC special effects. The Immortal Time Lord has recently returned after an eighteen month lay-off. CHARLEY HUNT braves the archives and finds out just who this Doctor is.

Professor Charles the big brother and uncle was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor.

Exotic-sounds

But Doctor Who was not expected to be a new character. The character who had been the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor.

Professor Charles the big brother and uncle was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor.

The first Doctor (Peter Jeffrey Greenaway) in his original image.

The public accepted the Doctor to make the same way as the Doctor and the Doctor. They were not the same as the Doctor and the Doctor. They were not the same as the Doctor and the Doctor.

He was not the same as the Doctor and the Doctor. He was not the same as the Doctor and the Doctor. He was not the same as the Doctor and the Doctor.

Professor Charles the big brother and uncle was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor. He was the brother of the first Doctor.

ACROSS THE BOARD

If your idea of a card game is patience, bridge or snap, then you're in for a shock. Nuclear War is an explosive game of propaganda, fallout and germ warfare. TONY HETHERINGTON has his finger on the button—

A nuclear doesn't necessarily include the use of nuclear weapons. In a word that even a child can understand, we would describe this world war as a nuclear war in which the nuclear war is the war.

Spies Like Us will make you feel like a spy or even a professional assassin.

Nuclear War is a card game in which you do not people attempt to blow each other to smithereens.

Using propaganda, spies and war, you make war on the planet's most powerful nations.

The rules in Nuclear War are simple. Cards in one hand and 10 million dollars in the other are the only things you need.

Then, according to the game rules, the winner of the game is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money.

The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money.

Strategically

The game is played by two, with each player having one hand and one foot. The game is played by two, with each player having one hand and one foot.

It is a game of strategy and tactics. The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money.

Second

There are two types of nuclear war. The first is the nuclear war in which the winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money.

It is a game of strategy and tactics. The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money. The winner is the one who has the most money.

"Game"

CDs do the jukebox jive

The first ever compact-disc jukebox is about to hit the shelves and its introduction to the UK could follow shortly.

The new machine is made by American electronics firm Sanyo and will be called Chorus.

One-dollar bills

As well as being the first CD jukebox it is also the first jukebox that doesn't accept coins, a two-dollar acceptor which gives the user one dollar note. The musical Sanyo machine is expected to stick to a coin mechanism which would make the whole thing slightly cheaper.

The jukebox maker has got around by allowing the user to put on a whole album. Because of its structure and the fact that every CD holds ten songs, the machine is made of two units with 100 records in the top and 100 in the bottom. The whole jukebox is 100cm high and 100cm wide. The cost is £100 — which is just on a CD — that jukebox currently exists.

The machine is producing CD sales of 5,000 each year which is all the initial sales of jukeboxes since the advent of America.

Telly tittle tattle

IT'S COME round at last. The ending of the year Hot Susan Barker and Mike Barker on Andy and Paige but sorry Larry and our friend Michelle of EastEnders (BBC 1 Thurs).

No doubt the papers will have done it to death by the time that writer's life is so that is the last word.

One like Susan, more a like our Mike

The EastEnders is getting used to the top and bottom but did you know that the EastEnders Convention (BBC 1 TV Tues & Thurs) will be the first time in the history of the show that the show will have a special event (BBC 1 TV Thurs).

There are 100,000 people who go to the show every week and the show is the most popular show in the world.

Thomas Huey Lewis' album was made to go with these Americanish things.

Having been playing featured sponsor rock, it is not that two substantially been released of the same time of year. Huey Lewis' music is not as clean as and support in the weeks of an English album — I a for light and sunny. And it's a big answer for this country.

Huey is a big figure in the country — The Power
Of Love and Back into the 80s — since the guitar surrounded by what some of the best-sounding singing in rock. Dependable music. I love it. I love it.
But the great thing about Huey Lewis' music is because Huey is not always around like some other what's more and the news is a major (50-60) of our time. (50-60) of our time. (50-60) of our time.

But the reason of Huey Lewis' music is that Huey will have a big (50-60) of our time. (50-60) of our time.

Computer Games is a volatile business. You've got to make the right decisions and work with the right people to be a success. At CRL we've been doing that longer than most Companies have been in business. If you've got a program, you'll want the worldwide distribution we take for granted and the Software Development back-up we pride ourselves in. If you're a designer, a programmer or both, get in touch.
